Angola 2006 Franklin GRAHAM FESTIVAL

Dear Friends,

The staff and inmates of Louisiana State Penitentiary cordially invite you to be our guests on Saturday, April 1, as we host the ANGOLA 2006 FRANKLIN GRAHAM FESTIVAL. The Festival is slated to be an unforgettable day of praise and worship at Angola's multi-purpose arena. The event will feature famed artists THE CHARLIE DANIELS BAND, LYNDA RANDLE, DENNIS AGAJANIAN AND THE TOMMY COOMES BAND. The Arena grounds will open at 9:00 a.m. to feature inmate gospel bands, inmate made arts and crafts as well as food concessions to promote a real sense of Louisiana's famous culture.

This historic and joyous occasion, held against the backdrop of one of America's most nationally renown maximum-security prisons, is bound to encourage hope as well as to enhance public awareness of safety through the model moral rehabilitation philosophy currently active at the 18,000 acre penitentiary. The Louisiana State Penitentiary is humbled by the opportunity to host Reverend Graham.

The chance to demonstrate the power of moral rehabilitation – to provide programming aimed at reforming behavior from the inside out – is priceless. This rare occasion will promote national awareness as to what is truly possible even in hearts and places widely thought to be beyond hope and redemption. The Festival also provides Christians in the area an opportunity to invite friends to a festive event to hear of God's love and life changing grace.

Don't miss your chance to be moved toward improving our public safety initiatives one heart at a time, and a once in a lifetime occasion to take part in this great movement of God. We aim to promote public safety through personal change from inside the gates of this massive prison with the hopes that better and safer communities will emerge as a result.

We look forward to having you share in this monumental occasion.

Sincerely,

Burl Cain, CCE

Warden Burl Cain
